

TRIANGLE LAND CONSERVANCY

A Strategic Success Story

Fiscal Year 2023 Annual Report

From the Executive Director

You may be one of the hundreds of people who discovered Triangle Land Conservancy's walking and biking trails during the pandemic. If so, I hope you still enjoy TLC's 54 miles of trail (28 for walking only and 26 multi-use) and were able to explore the many trails across the state during the Year of the Trail in North Carolina.

As we celebrate 40 years of conservation, TLC remains steadfast in our effort to conserve 25,000 acres by 2025. In TLC's first decade, volunteers conserved 1,000 acres. In the last five years, we have conserved an average of 1,000 acres PER YEAR, protecting over 23,500 acres of land via land purchases, donations, and conservation easements.

We are also laying the groundwork today to continue to conserve at least 1,000 acres per year into the future. TLC's veteran and growing staff bring a wide array of skills and expertise as we seek new and creative ways to accelerate the pace of conservation. From implementing the buy-serve-sell model to protect disappearing farmland to inspiring private donations to leverage government funds for land protection, TLC will continue prioritizing the most critical lands for protection within the rapidly developing Triangle region.

As we have for the past 40 years, in FY2023, we continued to work with many individual, corporate, and foundation donors, as well as local and state governments, and protected 910 acres, with over 1,100 in process to close very soon.

Thank you for your dedication toward protecting wildlife habitat, safeguarding clean water, supporting local farms, and connecting people to nature.

With gratitude,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Sandy Sweitzer". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large, sweeping flourish at the end.

Sandy Sweitzer, Executive Director
Triangle Land Conservancy

OUR MISSION

TLC strives to create a healthier and more vibrant Triangle region by safeguarding clean water, protecting natural habitats, supporting local farms and food, connecting people with nature through land protection and stewardship and catalyzing community action and collaboration.

Report on Year 5: Achieving bold conservation goals

Progress on the 2025 Strategic Action Plan

Accelerating the Pace of Conservation: 25,000 acres by 2025

23,651 acres protected through June 2023

174
to go!

910 acres protected this year!

1,175 acres in progress

- Permanently conserved 248 acres of undeveloped land within the Big Woods Road Upland Forests Natural Area between Fearington Village and Jordan Lake in Chatham County – one of our largest purchases in the last decade and the first land acquisition that will be supported in part by the Town of Cary's Watershed Protection Program Fund.
- Permanently conserved a 46 acre property on a critical tract of land in the Marks Creek Watershed that connects Marks Creek and Lake Myra communities via corridors, trails, and scenic landscapes.
- Protected 521 acres of State-identified Natural Heritage Sites
- Preserved a 257 acre farm in Chatham County.

By the Numbers

In FY23, you helped...

Monitor 16,796 Acres

Staff and volunteers spent 394 hours monitoring 6,954 acres of property owned by TLC and 9,842 acres protected through 170 conservation easements. As an accredited land trust, this land must be monitored and managed annually to ensure that the land is cared for and conservation easement terms are not violated.

Conserve 910 acres of land to protect drinking water

All the land protected this year helps protect drinking water for the Triangle, including 248 acres near Jordan Lake, a source of drinking water for people living in Durham, Chatham, Orange, and Wake counties and 17 acres of land on the floodplains of Middle Creek, an important aquatic habitat in Johnston County and 63-acres adjacent to Falls Lake.

Transfer 1,127 acres of wilderness

Completed the transfer of 1,127 acres known as Brogden Bottomlands in Johnston County to the NC Division of Parks and Recreation. This mostly wilderness area, known as the Neuse River Lowgrounds, protects an area rich in wildlife and wetlands providing a scenic corridor along the Neuse River.

Support Local Farms & Food

Nearly 400 of the 910 acres protected this year are farmland. We also completed construction of the agricultural pavilion at Williamson Preserve which will serve as a food hub for our farm partners and neighboring communities.

Support Diversity in Agriculture

Grew our Good Ground Initiative (GGI) through collaborations with partners and community members. Eight members have served on the GGI Committee, representing a variety of professions and expertise that support GGI's objectives. We have conserved and designated 382 acres of farm and forest land for transfer through the Good Ground Initiative. Partnered with the Karen Community Farm at Oaky Grove through a 3-year fiscal sponsorship of a Refugee Agricultural Partnership Program grant that will help the farm consolidate its infrastructure and support Karen refugees in Wake County.

Connect People to Nature

Increased our Volunteer Trail Guides to 100 committed volunteers, who helped lead over 80 programs. Doubled our student cohort from five to ten students in our Pathways Into Natural Environments and Science (PINES) program and supported four students in graduating and getting into college to study STEM-related careers. Continued to maintain 54 miles of trail at our public nature preserves which thousands of people enjoy every month. Brumley and Williamson Preserves saw increased usage, averaging 3,500 and 2,200 visitors per month, respectively.

Contribute 2,951 Volunteer Hours

352 volunteers assisted TLC with teaching programs, administrative tasks, leading hikes, maintaining trails, and monitoring easements. As the number of easements held by TLC has increased, we have expanded our stewardship staff and trained volunteers to assist with monitoring. In FY23, volunteers contributed 250 hours to monitor 46 of TLCs easements.

By the numbers, you helped...

- ✓ Conserve 910 acres of land, including 6 miles of stream, 394 acres of farmland.
- ✓ Engage 2,684 people at 84 virtual and in-person events.
- ✓ Collaborate with 95 unique community partners.
- ✓ Open 2.2 miles of trails and manage 54 miles across the Triangle.

FY23 Highlights

Overall, TLC has protected almost 7,000 acres across 83 owned properties and 9,842 acres through 170 conservation easements in addition to just over 7,000 acres conserved and transferred to state and local parks. Each of these conservation properties support at least two of the four benefits that TLC prioritizes: safeguarding clean water, local farms and foods, natural habitat, and connecting people with nature.

Protecting Natural Habitats

- Preserved and protected 521 acres of Natural Heritage Areas identified by the State of NC and 6 miles of stream, bringing TLC's 40-year total to 170 miles of stream. All of the recently 910 conserved acres will protect drinking water for the fast-growing Triangle region.
- Permanently protected a 34-acre property in Wake County, which includes portions of two significant Natural Areas identified by the North Carolina Natural Heritage Program: Middle Creek Bluffs Natural Heritage Area and Middle Creek Aquatic Habitat. This property features steep bluffs and floodplain that contain some of the highest quality natural habitats remaining in Wake County.
- Permanently conserved a 46-acre property on a critical tract of land in the Marks Creek Watershed that connects Marks Creek and Lake Myra communities via corridors, trails, and scenic landscapes.
- Protected an additional 17 acres downstream on Middle Creek in Johnston County, an important habitat for the Neuse River Waterdog — a rare species of aquatic salamander found only in the Neuse and Tar-Pamlico River Basins of North Carolina.
- Completed restoration work aimed at improving bird habitat at Brumley North supported by a grant from Cornell Lab of Ornithology. We completed edge feathering around a field, removed invasive species, planted hundreds of native plants, and burned approximately 30 acres, which will help maintain the proper habitat and growing conditions for native plants, while combating invasive species.
- TLC partnered with the New Hope chapter of the Audubon Society to carry out bird monitoring for the project. At least 90 distinct bird species were seen at Brumley North during FY23.
- Created 5-acre pollinator habitat at Williamson Preserve. With help from Conservation Corps North Carolina and other volunteer groups, we planted and mulched 400 tree seedlings. TLC staff and volunteers removed invasive species from the Walnut Way Wildflower meadow and overseeded the soil which created vibrant wildflower displays throughout the summer and fall.
- Worked with hundreds of volunteers to maintain, restore, and improve habitat on TLC properties by removing invasive species, planting native plants, and conducting prescribed burns.

Safeguarding Clean Water

- Protected the 108-acre Chicken Bridge Forest tract in the Haw River corridor, an area identified in the Jordan Lake Watershed Conservation Strategy as a vulnerable source of water for Jordan Lake, which supplies drinking water to over 700,000 people.

- Conserved 910 acres of land to protect drinking water for the Triangle including a 63-acre site in Wake County adjacent to Falls Lake.
- Purchased 248 acres of forest and wetlands between Chapel Hill and Pittsboro, which also contains 183 acres of the Big Woods Road Upland Forests Natural Area. Adjacent to property owned by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the area provides a buffer around Jordan Lake, which provides flood control and recreation and serves as a source of drinking water for people in Chatham, Orange, Durham and Wake counties.

Supporting Local Farms and Food

- Continued implementation of the farm plan at Williamson Preserve which now hosts 5 farm partners who each use regenerative agriculture techniques to support perennial and annual crops, livestock, and a native tree nursery.
- Permanently protected four farms totaling 394 acres with funding from Wake County’s new Farmland Preservation Program that allocates funds from rollback taxes to support the purchase of conservation easements on working lands. This includes Lazy J Ranch in Wake County (an 86-acre sheep farm) and two properties with traditional row crops.
- Partnered with the Karen Community Farm at Oaky Grove in Eastern Wake County by supporting a three-year Refugee Agricultural Partnership Program Grant. This grant will support Karen refugees as they learn how to grow both local and traditional Asian crops in North Carolina.

- Opened the new agricultural pavilion at Williamson Preserve with support from The Jandy Ammons Foundation and an anonymous donor. Designed after historic structures on the property, this 40' x 60' open-air timber-framed pavilion will serve as a community hub for farming and agricultural events, workshops and educational programs.
- Strengthened our Good Ground Initiative through collaborations with partners and community members. TLC's GGI Committee created a new framework for pairing prospective stewards with appropriate farms and laid the groundwork for developing opportunities to introduce interested producers to individuals, communities, and resources that can support them. The committee also created a plan to offer ongoing educational programming.

Connecting People With Nature

- Participation in TLC events grew 37% from FY22. We engaged 2,684 people while collaborating with 95 unique community partners throughout the year.
- Hosted 84 events including: First Fridays Under the Stars, a monthly star-gazing event with Raleigh Astronomy Club; monthly bird watching at Brumley North; and You Belong Outside with Great Outdoor Provision Co., a program which showcases outdoor adventure as an accessible experience for anyone.
- In February 2023, we brought Wild Ideas back in person, with an event titled Wild I.D.E.A.s for a More Vibrant Tomorrow - Dynamic talks to inspire Inclusion, Diversity, Equity and Access in the Outdoors. Held at the NC Museum of Natural Sciences, the expo featured 25 community partners, and over 350 people attended.
- Pathways into Natural Environments and Science (PINES) Fellowship Program completed its second year. We hosted two camping trips, visited local sites including Tierra Negra farm at Earthseed, and gave students hands-on experiences in the outdoors.
- Maintained 54 miles of trail (28 for hiking and 26 multi-use) at our eight public preserves.
- Opened the 2.2-mile Lily Loop trail in August 2022 at Williamson Preserve providing our biking enthusiasts more single track with exciting elevation changes (200+ feet) along with switchbacks, plenty of roots and rocks, and fun dips and turns.
- Finalized the transfer of 1,127-acre Brogden Bottomlands property in January 2023 to the NC Division of Parks and Recreation. Located in Johnston County, the Neuse River Lowgrounds protects an area rich in wildlife and a scenic corridor along the Neuse River. Once opened, this land will become a recreational area as part of the Mountains-to-Sea Trail offering walking, nature observation and other activities.

Celebrating Staff Service

The TLC team brings tremendous talent and dedication to our work. Several staff are celebrating major milestones this year.

Learning from Leigh Ann

“One of TLC’s greatest unsung heroes is Leigh Ann Hammerbacher. Her steady perseverance and deep knowledge of conservation in North Carolina allows her to weave strategies out of red tape and chisel masterpieces out of apparent stonewalls. We are immensely grateful for all of Leigh Ann’s accomplishments during the past sixteen years, and we can’t wait to see what she will do next.”

Brenna Thompson, Senior Land Protection Manager (East)

Bo and the TLC Brand

“For many TLC members and enthusiasts, Robert “Bo” Howes is Triangle Land Conservancy. Always quick to remind us that our work can’t be summarized in merely “bucks and acres,” Bo is responsible for thousands of acres conserved and millions of dollars raised. Yet, his investment in the human side of TLC may be his biggest impact of all as Bo is incredibly generous with the wisdom he’s gained from his many years, fifteen to be exact, of experience.”

Margaret Sands, Associate Director of Land Protection (West)

Matt Makes All Things Better

“Every time you take a walk at Johnston Mill, White Pines, Horton Grove, or Brumley, you are seeing work from Matt Rutledge. Matt has walked hundreds of miles monitoring easements, led volunteer workdays, and created and rerouted numerous trails. He has also planted thousands of seeds and hundreds of plant plugs over the years to set the stage for improved habitats on TLC lands.”

A Wild and Working Decade: 10 Years with Sandy Sweitzer

Simply stated, Executive Director Sandy Sweitzer has delivered a decade of stellar service to Triangle Land Conservancy. Under her leadership, TLC has progressed to become a far more significant and accomplished land trust. During her time, Sandy has:

- Raised TLC's profile with ongoing participation in the land trust community, including accreditation from the Land Trust Accreditation Commission, enhancing TLC's reputation for quality conservation locally and nationally.
- Ensured TLC was at the forefront of conservation organizations embracing racial equity as part of our responsibility to community conservation
- Encouraged staff to apply their own interpretations and expertise to what they've learned, resulting in the development of new and significant initiatives including: Pathways Into Natural Environments and Science (PINES) Fellowship and the Good Ground Initiative.

Sandy's understanding that TLC's work is about much more than bucks and acres has made her a champion for innovation and a cheerleader for her staff stepping out of the box to maximize community benefit. PINES and Good Ground are bold and innovative programs that would have remained theoretical without Sandy's tireless advocacy, fundraising, and courage. She has also shared this leadership style with other land trusts in her role as co-chair of the NC Land Trust Federation, a coalition of NC land trusts advocating for conservation support.

Significantly, Sandy has led TLC through the 2018 strategic planning process, and followed through on all four of its mission statement goals while doubling the pace of land conservation in the Triangle:

- Connecting people to nature by the opening of Brumley and Williamson Preserves to the public and constructed extensive – and well used – trail systems in both.
- Safeguarding clean water by drawing up the Jordan Lake Watershed Conservation Strategy and participating in the Raleigh Watershed Protection Program and NC Land and Water Fund by submitting quality projects and strengthening partnerships.
- Protecting natural habitats, by acquiring Brogden Bottomlands, TLC’s largest land protection project to date at over 1,100 acres.
- Protecting farms and food by significantly ramping up farmland conservation efforts in Chatham and Johnston County, and establishing the NextGen Farmer Program at TLC’s Williamson Preserve.

In every dimension of Triangle Land Conservancy’s operation, there has been profound progress under the leadership of Sandy Sweitzer. Sandy, we thank you, and we look forward to more years of exciting progress.

With deep appreciation,

John McAdams

TLC Board President, Emeritus

On behalf of the entire Triangle Land Conservancy community

A Decade of Difference

- ✓ Staff grew from 9 to 30.
- ✓ Annual budget increased from $771,000 to $4,700,000.
- ✓ Miles of trail increased from 11.5 to 54.
- ✓ Acres of land protected increased from 15,000 to 23,000 and counting.
